

We Need More Exercise!

- A Come on. Let's play a video game.
- B Nah. I want to go outside and play.
- A I thought you liked video games.
- B Sometimes, but I want to play something real – not fake.
- A Video games are real. Real expensive.
- B I mean we have to get more exercise!
- A Maybe you should join a gym.
- B I'm not sure kids are allowed.
- A Why not?
- B I think you have to be eighteen.
- A That's not fair.
- B Yes, it is. Because we're supposed to run around outside and play. That's how us kids are supposed to get our exercise.
- A I want to get my exercise playing video games.
- B That's not good exercise.
- A Sure it is. It's good exercise for my fingers and my eyeballs.
- B I think we gotta get you to the playground, my friend. Fingers, eyeballs, and all the rest of you too.

The Oddly Obscure Ocelot

- A How do you spell ocelot?
- B Spell what?
- A Ocelot.
- B I don't know. I'd have to think a lot.
- A Good. Think up how to spell it for me.
- B What is it? A store?
- A Animal. Some kind of wild creature.
- B Sorry. I never even heard of such an animal, and I don't know how to spell it.
- A Can you look it up?
- B Why don't you look it up?
- A Because I don't know how to spell it
- B I don't know how to spell it, either. I don't even think it's real.
- A It's definitely real, and it's a very important animal.
- B Are you making all this up?
- A No! I'm telling you that you have to help me! This is an important animal.
- B Might be a good idea to learn how he spells his name.
