

Flip Flops or Sneakers?

- A Why do you always wear flip flops?
- B I love my flip flops. They're so comfortable.
- A But sneakers are better for running and playing.
- B Nah. I like the sound my flip flops make when I walk. Flip, flop. Flip, flop. Flip, flop.
- A That's cool. But I still like sneakers.
- B Sneakers are sweaty!
- A Sneakers are awesome!
- B But sneakers don't even make any kind of noise!
- A I know! That's the whole idea! They're quiet so you can sneak around!
- B Ooooh! That's why they're called sneakers! They're good for sneaking!
- A Yeah, so you can walk around on tippy-toe and nobody will hear you!
- B Too bad they don't make sneaky flip flops!

The Principal's Office

- A Do you know the way to the Principal's office?
- B Oh, no! Are you in trouble?
- A No. I don't think so.
- B But only kids who are in trouble have to go to the Principal's office!
- A Don't worry. Just point me to the Principal's office. Which way? This way? That way? Upstairs? Downstairs?
- B Down this hall. I'm going with you too. Maybe you'll need help
- A I don't need help eating lunch!
- B Lunch? You're eating lunch in the Principal's office?
- A Yeah. She made my lunch for me.
- B Yeah, right! Don't eat in her office! You're gonna get in trouble!
- A No, I won't. The Principal is also my mom!
- B Oh! I get it now!
