

Big Sisters Are Very Special People!

- A Are you going to Gabriella's party?
- B Gabriella Rose?
- A Yeah. Her mom and dad are giving her a big party.
- B Cool. I didn't know it's her birthday.
- A It's not. Her birthday is in May.
- B So what's the party for?
- A It's a big sister party.
- B A what?
- A A big sister party.
- B What's that?
- A Just what it sounds like. It's a party for big sisters.
- B Really?
- A Yeah. Because her mom and dad say she helps out so much at home. She helps her parents with her little brother and sister.
- B Oh, those twins are so cute!
- A Adorable! Little Dylan and Julianna! And Gabby always helps watch them.
- B She's such a sweet girl!
- A I know! I love Gabriella!
- B Everyone does. She's always so nice to everybody.
- A Yep. Sure is. She's teaching her cousin Madison now. Showing Madison how to help with her baby brother Max.

- B Ooooh! I love Madison and Max!
- A The M and M team!
- B Awesome. Gabriella's one of my favorite kids at school. Best in the West.
- A That's why her parents are giving her a big sister party. Big sisters are very special people.
- B You can say that again.
- A Okay. Big sisters are very special people.
